

Louis J. Beyer
Executive Assistant Director
Financial Management and Planning
Naval Criminal Investigative Service

Louis J. Beyer was born in Bethpage, New York. He received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering and was commissioned an ensign in the U.S. Navy upon his graduation from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1979.

Mr. Beyer served on active duty with the United States Navy from 1979 to 1988 as both a surface warfare officer and an intelligence officer. His first operational assignment was aboard the USS Bristol County (LST-1198) as the Damage Control Assistant and Gunnery Officer. He retired as a Captain from the Naval Reserve in 2006.

He attended the Defense Intelligence College and earned his Master's of Science in strategic intelligence in 1983. Mr. Beyer served as a collection operations officer with the Defense Intelligence Agency from 1983-1985. During this time, he provided support to U.S. military operations in Lebanon and Grenada, participated in wartime contingency planning and exercises, and conducted evaluations of U.S. intelligence collection programs.

Mr. Beyer joined the Naval Criminal Investigative Service in June 1985 and served as a terrorism analyst and the operations officer in the Navy's Antiterrorist Alert Center. After separating from active duty, Mr. Beyer returned in 1989 as the deputy chief and, subsequently, chief of the Antiterrorist Alert Center. His accomplishments included executing the Navy's response to the terrorist threat during the Persian Gulf War.

From 1992-2004, Mr. Beyer served as Assistant Director for Administration, Assistant Director for Financial Management, special assistant on the NCIS Strategic Planning Group, program manager and special assistant within the NCIS Counterintelligence Directorate in the areas of systems/technology protection, counterintelligence analysis and production, and resource management. In August 2004, he was named the NCIS Inspector General. Mr. Beyer assumed his current duties in March 2007.

