Office in the area to which they are destined. Although detailed arrangements have not yet been completed, it is anticipated that these Relocation Offices will make available to the District Intelligence Officer concerned the names of all evacuees who enter the Naval District.

5. In the case of those Districts where there are no Relocation Offices, it is contemplated that the Office of Naval Intelligence will obtain the names of evacuees from the War Relocation Authority headquarters and disseminate them whenever the need may arise. This procedure will undoubtedly undergo revision as the War Relocation Authority enlarges its operations and opens sub-offices in various places other than those listed in Enclosure (B).

By the same token the District Intelligence Officers are requested to keep the Office of Naval Intelligence advised of all circumstances in the districts which pertain to subject problem.

Following is the text of a letter received by the Honorable Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of War, from the President:

"February 1, 1943

"My dear Mr. Secretary:

"The proposal of the War Department to organize a combat team consisting of loyal American citizens of Japanese descent has my full approval. The new combat team will add to the nearly five thousand loyal Americans of Japanese ancestry who are already serving in the armed forces of our country.

"This is a natural and logical step toward the reinstatement of the Selective Service procedures which were temporarily disrupted by the evacuation from the West Coast.

"No loyal citizen of the United States should be denied the democratic right to exercise the responsibilities of his citizenship, regardless of his ancestry. The principle on which this country was founded and by which it has always been governed is that Americanism is a matter of the mind and heart; Americanism is not, and never was, a matter of race or ancestry. A good American is one who is loyal to this country and to our creed of liberty and democracy. Every loyal American citizen should be given the opportunity to serve this country wherever his skills will make the greatest contribution -- whether it be in the ranks of our armed forces, war production, agriculture, government service, or other work essential to the war effort.

"I am glad to observe that the War Department, the Navy Department, The War Manpower Commission, the Department of Justice, and the War Relocation Authority are collaborating in a program which will assure the opportunity for all loyal Americans, including Americans of Japanese ancestry, to serve their country at a time when the fullest and wisest use of our manpower is all-important to the war effort.

"Very sincerely yours,

"/s/ FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT"
